Man Arrested For Skipping Jury Duty 11 Times

A Pennsylvania man who skipped out on jury duty 11 times in the last two years has been arrested inside a courthouse while seeking relief from a child support ruling.

Somerset County Judge D. Gregory Geary told 32-year-old Owen Fazenbaker III on Monday that he found it "ironic" that Fazenbaker could find his way to court for that but not for jury duty.

Fazenbaker promised to serve on future juries if the judge would not impose a $500 fine and 10 days in jail for each time he has missed jury duty.

The (Somerset) Daily American (http://bit.ly/1C7iFwx) reports that the judge said the Stoystown man could avoid a seven-day jail term if he pays a $500 fine.
